CO-EDITORS:

CHRISTINE LATSEY, STEPHEN SACKEL

i have spent over twelve thousand hours in these classrooms (or ones similar).
i have laughed and cried here,
pushed my way through crowded corridors or run through empty ones.

i have been in love and am in love.
i have been alone and am alone.
i have grown and i am growing.

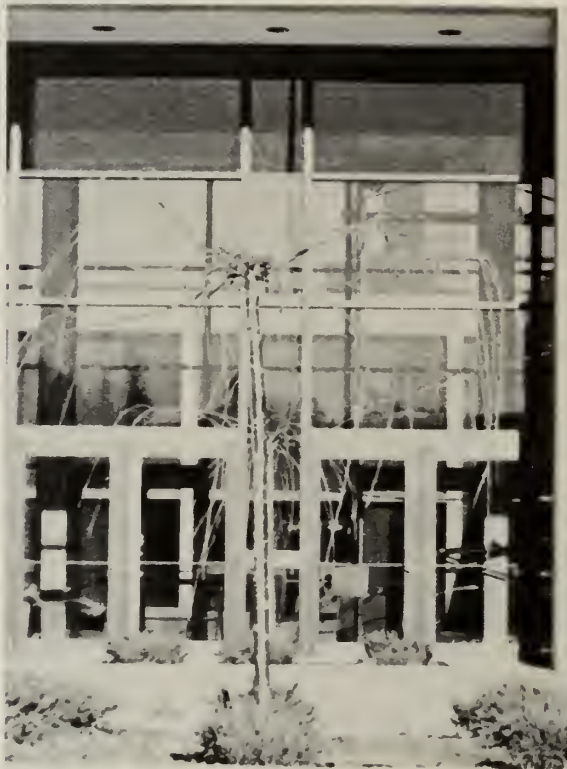

i am not the person i was yesterday,
although my yesterdays have made me
what i am today.
nor am i the least bit like the person
i shall be tomorrow,
for my tomorrows depend upon today.

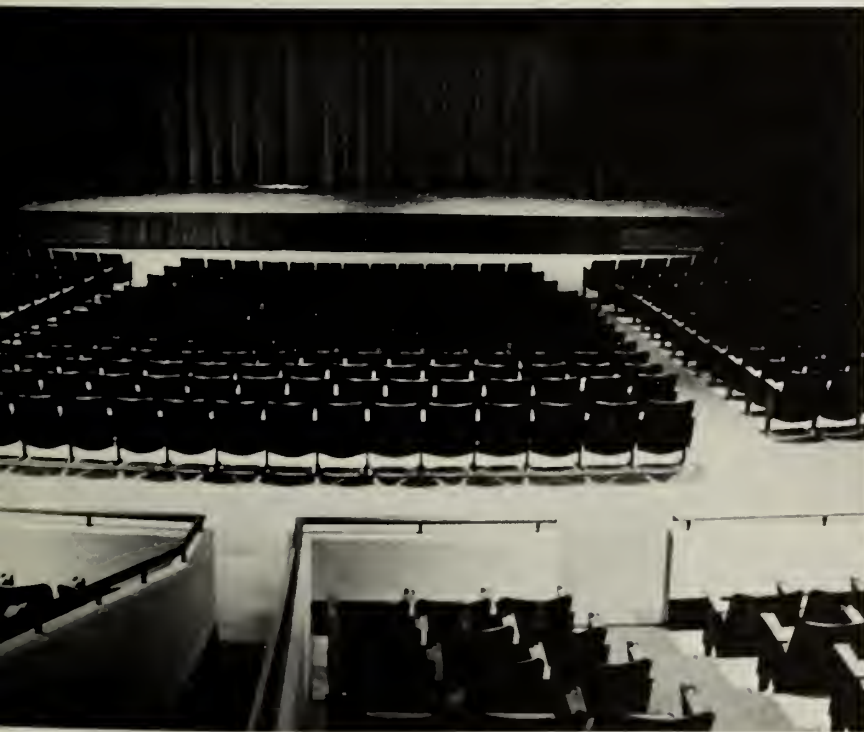

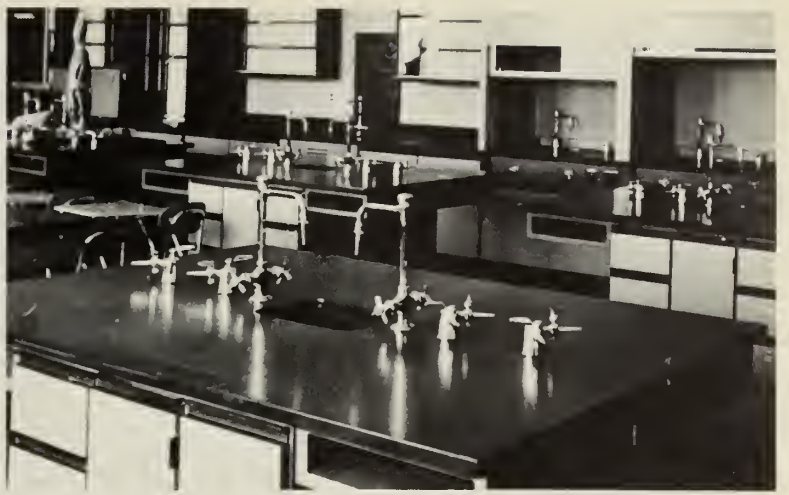

my friends have taught me much.
good friends are all i have.
all is everything and everything fills up just about every space in time.

within these walls are two kinds of classrooms.
the first is easy to see,
for it has doors and windows and desks.
on the blackboards you might find math formulas or vocabulary words.
the teacher here
is older than the students.
but look again.
i see life's classroom.
people are learning from each other in the classroom.
the lesson is never the same and sometimes difficult to understand, but each and every minute
in life's classroom teaches the student something that will stay in his mind long after $y = mx + b$ has lost all significance.

each day brings some new thought,
some new experience;
and i live in the present,
eagerly anticipating the time when tomorrow will be today.

ADMINISTRATION

The faces are familiar, but how many students are really aware of the numerous responsibilities of our administrators? They are involved in all aspects of the educational process, continually facing the constant pressures which the management of a high school creates. The job is not an easy one, for they must handle matters of curriculum, discipline, and teacher-parent relationships essential in helping a school function in a normal fashion. More pressing is the need to recognize student sentiment when making school-wide decisions and being able to keep open lines of communication for the purpose of giving students a voice in their eventful school life. Their responsibilities are great and their rewards comparatively few; however, our school administration has been instrumental in successfully effecting and leading every aspect of our life at Belmont High.

Mr. John J. Corrigan, Work-Study Coordinator

Mr. William J. Brogna, Head Counselor

Miss Janet M. Geggis, Guidance Counselor

GUIDANCE

"But Mr. Brogna, I'm only a sophomore and I'm scheduled for A.P. Chemistry!" . . . "The misplaced sophomore line forms on the right." Does this sound familiar? The lines may get shorter as the year progresses but the counselors' work load does not. College applications must be properly handled and testing scores analyzed. Part-time job opportunities are also made through the guidance office. All high school students, when looking at their future, rely on our Guidance Department to help them attain their goals. The guidance office works as an information and counseling center for outward bound students. All these and many other duties keep our counselors busy all year seeking better ways to help and guide all students through their high school years and beyond.

Be it in American literature or English, revenge has always been acceptable. Even today "institutionalized" revenge is acceptable—except in our English class! Now, with that in mind, what is Hamlet's tragic flaw? "Your assignment for next week, class, is to write an argumentative paper about" . . . "I have a question . . . in this paper should we concern ourselves with the numerous opinions of the various scholars who have published their thesis on the subject, or should we limit our scope by presenting only one side of the issue in a greater depth than would otherwise be possible?"

LANGUAGES

Mr. Michael P. Quercio
Foreign Language Co-ordinator; French

Pierre et René attendent Marianne et Veronique. Ah, French 2, the year you learn all the exceptions to the rules of French 1 . . . Your acting is fantas-tique, but I don't think that's exactly what Rabelais had in mind . . . Remember Le Petit Prince and son ami, perhaps the most important lesson you'll ever learn. Except, of course, how to form the passé composé.

Mr. Richard M. Penta, Foreign Language Dept. Chairman;
German; German Club; Cross of Merit, First Class

With Herr Penta, learning Deutsch is an unforgettable experience. You soon realize that you have less than 130 hours to learn what the average German child has had at least five years to acquire, and from that point on you work, work, work. As you begin to master the intricacies of the German language ("girls are neuter") and complex sentence structures become routine, the time when you shall begin to read and to speak Deutsch approaches. If you always remember "wer is Gott," you'll do fine.

Is it "Miguel y yo", or "yo y Miguel"? Never mind, I'll use nosotros. During their second year of studying Spanish, students follow the exploits of the Solar family (con tíó Ramon) and their attempts to "reunirse." "Morir . . . hmmm, is this one of these verbs that changes in the past because it's IR? I think so, but is it the 3rd plural and singular where the change is made, or the 1st plural?" What did I do this summer? Oh, nada de particular.

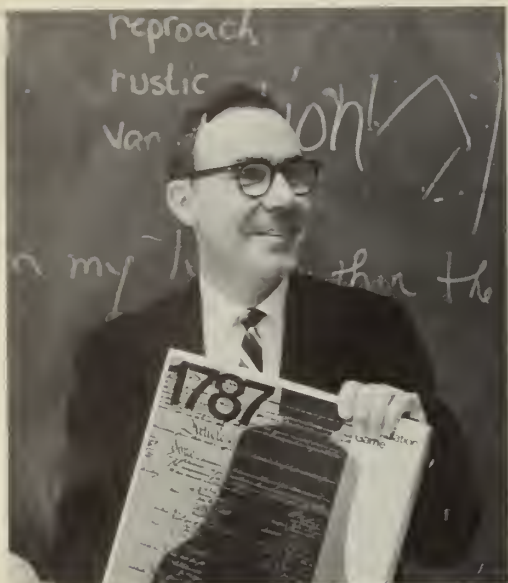

Pro bono humanitatis? Yes, Latin is certainly a boom to humanity. It's fun! Although exciting, Caesar's glorified and famous wars are written with a lot of gall on the part of the author. What else can a person say about Virgil except he has vim, verve and a voracious desire for varied vocabulary! And when one reaches the height of teaching Horace's odes he knows he has "touched his exalted head to the stars." Thud!

Miss Nancy Weingarten, Russian; French;

Imagine old Doctor Nudin riding into the desert on his educated horse Waldorf. But wait—that's not how it is in the book. Ax, prosteetye, dear teacher, we have made a vulgar error. Kowboy Jim should be on the horse. What hooliganism that is! Perhaps a lullaby would be more appropriate.

To succeed in Social Studies the student must have both a challenging attitude and a good understanding of people and their motivations. "Was Roosevelt really a bull moose?" . . . "I don't understand what the C.C.C., the T.V.A., and the N.R.A. had to do with F.D.R.?" Students learn the importance of "geopolitics" as their studies of governments and peoples are made clearer when related to a region's geography . . . "No, we weren't on trial. We just visited court!" What is the most important thing to remember when analyzing an historian's ideas? "Remember to consider the time in which he wrote."

Mathematics, as the hard working students will tell you, can be inspiring, highly motivating, but often frustrating. "My, those are interesting curves, aren't they!" "Did Pythagoras invent the hypotenuse?" . . . The good thing about Math is that it's a non-political issue. To understand geometry successfully, one must have a logical mind and know all the "angles" . . . Sines and cosines are either positive or negative . . . just remember A.S.T.C. and tomorrow's homework assignment! Math is concentric . . . errrr . . . confusing!

How come the crucible never breaks until after it's been carefully weighed? What's that smell? Rotten eggs in the biology lab? No, the chemistry class is burning sulphur without using the hoods.

BUSINESS

"Look at the copy, not at the keyboard. A blank keyboard won't help you at all. Now, who has improved the most today? Good secretaries do not wear dungarees, young lady, nor do they chew gum. Coffee breaks are not meant to be stretched. Doesn't anyone want to join the yearbook typing staff?"

The business teachers are instrumental in producing efficient secretaries and minds who will go out and rule the business world. And even those who are interested with only learning to type for their personal use get an excellent background.

ART

The Art Department has been greatly expanded during the past few years and now almost any student interested in a specific branch of art can find it at Belmont High. Theory is also taught and then applied to the canvas. If you're interested in cartooning, figure drawing, illustrating, lettering, or even sculptoring the art department is definitely for you!

FASHION DESIGN

The big dilemma facing the Fashion Design classes this year is length: Mini, Midi, or Maxi—the girls are making them all! In class all aspects of Fashion Design are stressed—construction, patterns, altering, and designing. The girls experiment with all types of designs, patterns, fabrics, and textures so every outfit is an original.

Miss Katherine F. Kearney

Food Science

The delicious aromas of coffee cake and other delicacies begin to filter out of room 118 and the next period begins. Upstairs, Urban Studies students sneak a mid-morning snack, very grateful for the existence of the Foods Department. Cooking classes are open to all students, and those now enrolled enjoy classes in the new high school kitchens. "I love using it—the burner with the brain and the griddle in the middle!"

MUSIC

Interested in music? Want to become another Michael Tilson Thomas and conduct the BSO at 26? Or is your goal membership in a 100-piece marching band? Even if you're just interested in acquiring a better understanding of the subject, there's no time like the present to start. Those enrolled in the Music classes may already be on their way to fame and fortune.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Whoever heard of not wearing socks to gym? Stand up and face this direction. How come more balls go into the basket during volleyball than during basketball? Why run the mile when you are going to end up at the same place from which you started? But I'm not going to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force. 1, 2, 3, 4. 1, 2, 3, 4. What if you can't do any pushups? At least you don't have to leap over holes while you're running around the track.

Mr. Albert W. Hedemark, Mech. Drawing; Driver's Ed.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

Mechanical Drawing is a course which requires a great deal of thought and perception. It could more appropriately be called Architectural Drawing, as most of the work consists of designing, drafting, and constructing model homes. The plates, or projects, vary in degree of difficulty. The class itself is conducted informally, and each student works at his own rate. All plates are difficult in that they must be intricately planned before they can be started. All students, however, concur with these words of Mr. Hedemark, "One should enjoy this work, it's rewarding."

DRIVER'S EDUCATION

Question: What do you do when approaching a flashing yellow light? Driver's Education can supply the answer. "All right, let's take the next right . . . without hopping the curb this time." "But I can't turn while you're looking at me!" I'm learning to park, execute three-point turns, and master fundamental driving skills; high school students must prepare themselves for the world of the congested highways, stop-and-go-traffic and high insurance rates . . . "Just be sure your seat belts are fastened!"

Sunrise on Nantucket will soon find a solitary fisherman whose mind will be intent on that striper he hopes to catch. Look closer and you will recognize Mr. Cowing indulging himself in his favorite hobby. In addition, he also enjoys furniture refinishing, silversmithing, boating and fine cuisine.

Mr. Cowing came to Belmont in 1944. Since 1967 he has served as head of the Science Department. Students will remember his friendly rapport with classes, and his good sense of humor. They will certainly remember their chemistry. One of his students said, "He could always solve those impossible equations with just a simple flick of his wrist . . . he was one of the best teachers I ever had."

After twenty-seven years of valuable service to Belmont High, Mr. Cowing now looks forward to his retirement and that first tug on his fishing line.

Mr. William T. Cowing
Science Dept. Chairman

RECOGNITION

Mr. M. Donald Plummer
Art Director

Mr. Donald Plummer is well-known throughout Belmont as the Art Director for the town's public schools. A past President of the Lexington Arts and Crafts Society, Mr. Plummer is presently chairman of that group's scholarship fund committee. Last year his one-man show at the Lexington Art Center was a brilliant success. Mr. Plummer also manages to find time to teach art privately in both Belmont and Lexington and to indulge in his many hobbies: collecting and refinishing antiques, bee-keeping, gardening, traveling, and two grandsons. All his students have had many hours of valuable instruction and pleasant association with him. Seniors remember Mr. Plummer from elementary school . . . "as first graders we were always so impressed by this tall, good-looking man who towered over us while teaching art . . . we found him to be a friendly, gentle, and a keenly sincere person."

The closing of the 1970-1971 school year will round out nearly forty years of continuous service by Michael J. Egan to the Belmont school system. Mr. Egan's entire life has been concentrated in Belmont with his wide participation in town activities distinguishing him as a true Belmontian. He has served as a town meeting member and also as director of the Recreation Department.

An integral part of the Belmont schools system, Mr. Egan has taught printing, metalcraft, and wood-working. He has also coached football and baseball.

His church has honored him many times, most recently by selecting him to receive the Leonard Award.

Never too busy to give sound advice or help someone in need, Mr. Egan has truly and unselfishly devoted his career to Belmont and its schools.

Mr. Michael J. Egan

HONOR GROUPS

Belmont Woman's Club—Seated: Vanessa Barss, Ellen Marino, Cathy Tracy, Paula Bozoian. Standing: Joan Terlemezian, Margaret Young, Gale Mosteller, Rebecca Novotny, Gretchen Hildebrand, Kathleen O'Connell.

Math Team—Seated: Richard Kitsis, Ellen Marino, Robert Hecht. Standing: Thomas Seder, James Radner, Edward Crawley.

Globe Art Awards—Richard Malkasian, Martha Westlund, Jeffrey Carter.

Phi Beta Kappa—Robert Hecht; Smith College Club—Ellen Marino; Rensselaer and Harvard Book Prize—Thomas Seder.

Northeast District Music Festival—Jean Kessler, Gretchen Hildebrand, Migrit Hiebert.

National Merit Semi-Finalists—Seated: Susan Rubin, Elaine Piraino, Rachel Dorr. Standing: Margaret Young, Robert Hecht.

Voice of Democracy—Vanessa Barss.
D.A.R.—Bette Viano.

Pres.: Thomas Seder; V. Pres.: Richard Kelley; Sec.: Paula Bozoian; Treas.: Patricia Boundy; Adv.: Mrs. Cortese.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Scholarship, leadership, service and character are the four qualities upon which National Honor Society membership is based. A service organization, N.H.S. provides B.H.S. with both a tutoring program and a scholarship fund. The national guidelines set for the society limit its members and necessitate the exclusion of some well-qualified, potential members. This year, however, N.H.S. members, rather than protest these inequities, involved students from all classes in their undertakings. Many hours of work were put into the organization of the tutoring program, which functioned throughout the year by providing tutors on both a permanent and temporary basis.

Pres.: Gail Gensler; V. Pres.: Bette Viano; Sec.: Nancy Watson; Treas.: Saleh Daher; Adv.: Mr. Flaherty.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 1969-1970 Student Council gave to its successor the task of creating a new student government by the 1970 Christmas vacation. In accord, the Council this year established committees to formulate government proposals. It also sponsored a student referendum to discover student sentiment on basic questions pertaining to government. The results indicated a majority of students were interested in the concept of a school government; one in which the faculty, administration and students would all participate in decision-making in certain areas. In trying to arrive at a feasible form of government employing this idea, the Council continued past its December deadline. It also realized that if the faculty and administration were to be involved in the government, they should also be involved in the planning stages. Thus, a Government Advisory Board was formed consisting of 4 teachers, 4 parents, 4 students and 1 administrator to continue the work.

Pres.: Russell Bonanno; V. Pres.: Curt Sauter; Sec.: Barbara Dutka; Treas.: Pam Small; Director: Mr. Tower.

BAND

That's all for today, I'll see you people in the Field House ready to go at 8:00 Saturday morning . . . We're too late for pre-game, so can we make the "W" at half time? It always turns out so well . . . The rush of activity that is the football season, ended with the Thanksgiving game. From that time on, Band members concentrated their efforts in the preparation of programs for the Christmas, Spring, and Pops Concerts . . . Trumpets, you should listen to the clarinets. They know the music . . . Mr. Tower, are we starting three before 7 or seven before 3? Band members work hard, but not without reward. Their outside activities included a Christmas Party, a trip to Symphony Hall to hear the Vienna Boys' Choir, and the traditional end-of-the-year Band Party.

Director: Mrs. Koloseike.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club membership is open to every student who meets the requirements that are set up by the director—you must be a natural at singing, have a friendly smile, be willing to make oh's and ah's in front of the mirror, and want to have some fun.

This year students had the privilege of having members of the Glee Club perform a holiday concert during the three days before Christmas vacation. Traditional as well as popular songs were sung and the concert certainly helped to bring out the holiday spirit around the school. In the spring the annual concert was given with its usual gaiety.

ORCHESTRA

OR is for orgiastic rock, C is for chords, H is for humility, E is for excellence, S is for strings, T is for trombones, trumpets, tubas, and trills, R is for rhythm, and A is for anyone else who wants to join! This small but talent-ridden group manages to produce unique final qualities. Though few in number, Orchestra members are extremely talented. Nearly every section boasts one member of either the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, and District Orchestra or Band. This organization of young musicians attempts biweekly to interpret the full range of works by famous composers and to perform as a well-rehearsed, cohesive unit.

Director Mr. Tower.

Capt.: Janet O'Connor; Asst. Capt.: Paula Najarian.

CHEERLEADERS

The infamous B.H.S. card section retired on Thanksgiving Day, but the leaders of those ebullient fans continued to demonstrate their spirited support for Belmont athletes throughout the school year. The Cheerleaders represent all B.H.S. students, who recognize and respect the work athletes put into their games, meets, and matches. These girls are the "backbone of B.H.S. spirit," and their presence at athletic events definitely adds much to the excitement of all spectators and players.

Capt.: Stephanie Chagaris.

DRUM MAJORETTES

What is it that keeps the boys in the band coming back week after week? Why the BHS "reindeer", of course. Better known as the Drum Majorettes, these talented twirlers provide entertainment for all present at football games, at rallies, and at band concerts. Their performances are always well-received, making the time spent creating and rehearsing routines well worth the effort.

COLOR GUARD

"Right shoulder, arms!" ... Barbara calls the band, drum majorettes, and Color Guard to attention and the half time show begins. Windy days play havoc with flags and precise routines tax memories, but the hard work is always rewarded, be it in the form of hot chocolate or cider after half time or the rousing applause of spectators at the game or students at the Thanksgiving Day rally.

Capt. Barbara DeMore; Adv. Miss Currie.

LES COPAINS

Pres.: Cecile Villars; V. Pres.: Marcy Mitchell; Sec.: Vanessa Barss; Treas.: Gail Gensler; Adv.: Mrs. Pratt.

Les Copains, or the Senior French Club, made some successful changes this year. Members were required to speak French at all the meetings, which proved fun as well as helpful to future French scholars. Exploring French culture, the club put on skits in French and also experimented with French cooking in the form of the delicious "Quiche Lorraine". Programs for the club included an International Christmas Party with the other B.H.S. language clubs and the establishment of a French library at the new high school.

LES COPAINS

LES COMPAGNONS

Les Compagnons, the Junior French Club, is composed of students studying either French 1 or French 2. Despite its "tres petit" membership and its "seulement garcon" the club has not been inactive. Members held a highly successful bake sale and greatly enjoyed une soirée at a French restaurant in Boston. Sans doute, ils sont de bons copains.

Adv.: Miss Weingarten.

EL CIRCULO ESPAGNOL

Pres.: Steve Paratore; V. Pres.: Mary Kenney; Sec.: Dorothy O'Brien; Treas.: Bette Viano; Adv.: Mr. Martellucci.

El Circulo Espagnol is one of the largest clubs at the high school. It might be more appropriately named the Spanish Choral, as anyone who heard their impressive presentation of villancicos at the International Christmas Party will tell you. Their rousing choruses of "Noche de Paz" and "Venid, Fieles Todos" added much to the enthusiasm of those attending.

In addition, Spanish Club members gave those present an additional taste of Spanish culture and heritage by providing a pinata full of candy and other treats. The members of the Spanish Club have endeavored to expose themselves to other facets of Spain's heritage through various activities, including dining at Spanish restaurants.

Pres.: Gretchen Hildebrand; V. Pres.: Valerie Rynne; Sec.: Cathy Tracy; Treas.: Beverly Delandis;
Adv.: Miss Keating.

VINCIT QUI SE VINCIT

The members of the Latin Club immersed themselves in Roman culture throughout the year and especially at their initiation when they immersed themselves during a water balloon fight in true, riotous Roman fashion. Before the club began to sell candy and nuts, a candy-tasting party was held at which time members gorged themselves on truffles and katydids. The glory of the Roman Empire was relived when the club saw the movie Julius Caesar, resplendent with blood. The club also sampled the cuisine of the Athenian Taverna. We come not to bury Latin, but to praise it . . .

IL CIRCULO ITALIANO

Never doubt anyone who tells you that the Italian Club is the most culturally-oriented organization at B.H.S. These club members are incredibly devoted in their efforts to learn as much as possible about Italian culture, and they have made numerous field trips to Italian restaurants in their ever-continuing search.

Pres.: Barbara DeMore; V. Pres.: Dorothy Bellantoni; Sec.: Linda Santamaria; Treas.: Anthony DeStefano; Adv.: Mr. Veneri.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Pres.: Lex Padis; V. Pres.: Jitka Raidl; Sec.: Joyce Kahane; Treas.: Russell Bonanno; Adv.: Mr. Penta.

Der Deutsche Verein, otherwise known as the German Club, has one of the highest memberships of all the school's clubs. A very active club, its program includes activities that range from volleyball tournaments and informal get-togethers to feasting at a German restaurant. The club participated in the German Fest "Tivoli." This is held annually at Boston University and is perhaps the most interesting activity of the year. On this night groups from many Greater Boston high schools come together and "experience" the many and varied facets of German culture. This event, as well as the entire German Club program, helps to broaden each member's concept of "das deutsche leben".

РУССКИЙ КРУЖОК

Pres.: Jitka Raidl; V. Pres.: Gail Gensler; Sec.-Treas.: Jonathan Kilbourn; Adv.: Miss Weingarten.

Alexander the Great grew to be seven feet tall by eating Russian Club food! And, although there are few seven-footers at B.H.S., there is a definite passion on the part of the students for PIROSHKEE. In fact, Russian Club foodsales are one of the most successful in the school. In addition to feeding the hungry masses, members of the club entertain themselves by doing Russian folk dances, singing, and playing balalaikas.

Who are those people hunched over those boards with the squares all over them? The Belmont High School checker team? Never!!!! It's the infamous B.H.S. Chess Club, diligently manipulating their pieces to put their opponents in check. And, after mastering the single board, our "marauding movers" will advance to the tactician's delight; 3-D Chess.

CHESS CLUB

Adv.: Mrs. Riel.

BICYCLE CLUB

Pres.: Clark Hodder; V. Pres.: Peter Mooney.

Led by officers who collectively peddled over two thousand miles this summer, the Bicycle Club has swiftly become one of the most popular clubs at B.H.S. Equipped with mafac tool kits, tire patches complete with French instructions, and frisbees, many trips, including ones to Walden Pond and Lake Cochituate, have been made.

During the winter months some members spent long hours in their cellars converting 3-speed Philips to 5-speed touring bikes, while others began mapping possible routes for the spring's expeditions. In their never-ending battle against the automobile, Arthur Parsons, who singlehandedly took on one of the infernal machines, has without a doubt shown the most courage.

Adv.: Mrs. Cortese.

OUTING CLUB

Pres.: John Mahoney.

Despite the midnight stroller(s), the grape juice pants, two frozen bodies, an ice cream-coated ceiling, and of course the weather, the Outing Club managed to provide those dedicated nature lovers of B.H.S. with a creative pastime: mountaineering. All had a chance to display his talents: Batterman as a chef, Morang as both a photographer and phone booth expert, Sadagursky and Hodder as a jazz duet, and Crawley as the ideal boy scout. With these talented people, the trips couldn't have been anything but fabulous. The club had mass keep-away games, Faye being the pro, cocoa on Chocoroua's summit, and toasted marshmallows at Lafayette Campground. Whenever it rained, there was always a party at Sue's, or perhaps a few brave souls to scale the quarry rocks.

SCIENCE CLUB

Pres.: Erich Petersen; V. Pres.: Armin Petersen; Sec.: Barbara Dutka; Treas.: Edward Crawley; Adv.: Mr. Russell.

The House of Petersen, having dethroned all but one of last year's ruling Armenians, implemented a new program for the Science Club. By complementing the experiments of club members with trips to observatories and other bastions of scientific research, the membership was afforded many opportunities to excell in their fields of interest.

FORUM CLUB

Pres.: Howard Gogek; V. Pres.: Elaine Piraino; Sec.: Gale Mosteller; Treas.: Vanessa Barss; Program Chairman: David Malenka; Adv.: Mr. Carey.

The Forum Club is a group of dedicated students who diligently work to bring a few of the great issues of the world into B.H.S. This year's activities included inviting candidates to the school to speak, a mock election, and a series of lectures and debates on such relevant topics as Prejudice, Welfare, Democracy vs. Socialism and Women's Liberation. A Student Exchange Day, endless telephone calls, letters, arguments, ideas, opinions, meetings, and committees make the Forum Club an excellent representation of the political and social issues it seeks to convey. From the peeling paint in the old school corridors to the war in Vietnam, no subject is left unturned by interested Forum Club muckrakers.

Most of the great orators of the school (or at least the big mouths) have once again united under the banner of the Public Speaking Club. With poise, eloquence, and charisma they talk about everything to all who will listen. Their moments of glory come during frequent speech contests, at which time they channel their talents into the specific areas of readings, interpretations, extempore speaking, discussions, debates, and radio broadcasting. After a victorious confrontation with the enemy, public speakers can be seen shaking hands with their dictionaries and riding off into the sunset in their VW's.

Adv.: Miss Almquist.

FOLK WORKSHOP

What's this? Young revolutionaries with their implements of destruction in guitar cases in order to fool an unsuspecting public? Look again. It's the Folk Workshop converging upon a gracious member's home for an evening of merriment. In addition to these numerous "supper and song" gatherings, the Folk Workshop organizes all Belmont Folk Concerts, which feature Belmont talent at its best.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Helping people is the main objective of Belmont High School's Red Cross Club. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Johnston, the girls have been making holiday favors for hospitals, filling Thanksgiving baskets for the needy, dressing dolls at Christmas for orphanages, visiting nursing homes to entertain and comfort the ill, the handicapped, and the aged, and fund raising for the Red Cross. These are just a few of their worthwhile activities. And the greatest reward is knowing that it exemplifies their theme, "Helping others".

ART CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. Mulford some of the many school-wide projects undertaken by the Art Club this year were the posters reminding seniors to have their Purdy photographs taken, Pep Rally decorations, the large picture of the Marauder that was held up by sixty-three spirited girls at the Thanksgiving Day Game, and posters to promote yearbook money-making ventures.

Although members of the Art Club are not required to take art, many do. Even if they don't take art, all members are interested in some facet of art, such as lettering, design, or perspective.

MIRAGE

Lingering softly, quietly in sleeping tidal pools,
 The misty shades of yesterday
 Reflect the pathos of a receding summer sun;
 And orgiastic whispers of joys that were,
 Dreams that might have been,
 Are captured among bits of straw on sun drenched shores.
 Thus doth nature seize summers reflections.

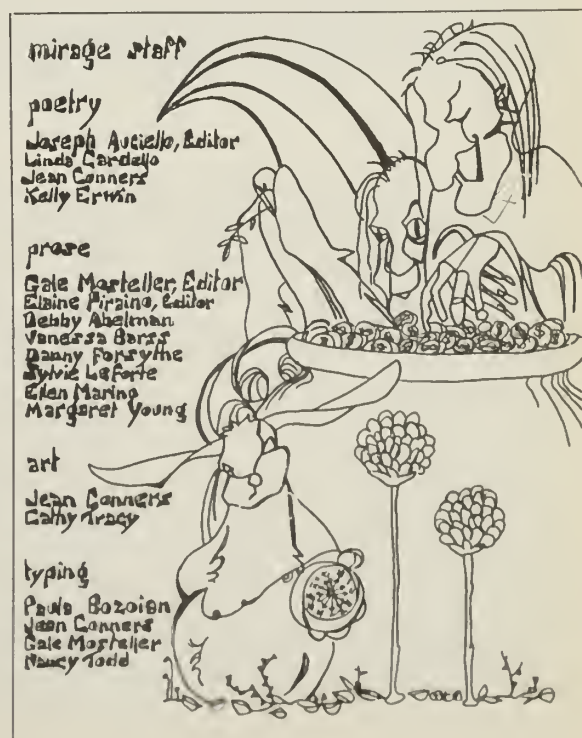

Cheering crowds, Maroon Marauders, busy schedules, Shakespeare,
 Reflect the ventures of our ivy-belted scholars;
 And beckoning bells lament the sadness of mute minds
 Muffled by the gentle tingle of falling rainbows.
 Thus doth nature seize autumn's reflections.

Racing swiftly, easily down dazzling mountain runs.
 The brilliant glare of snow clad slopes
 Does not reflect the somber hues of mid-year exams.
 Alas, glide dull blades along the choppy ice.
 Thus doth nature seize winter's reflections.

Laughing carelessly, soulessly in open fields,
 The dew-draped daisies of wild-dom
 Reflect the ebullience of graduating seniors;
 And nascent dreams of tomorrows to be Mingle with somber thoughts that hope to become
 The paths of future understanding, success, and contentment.
 Thus doth spring seize life's reflections.

Mirage is not an illusion. Not only was Mirage re-born this year, but it also grew from a mimeographed magazine to a small paperback book. This amazing accomplishment was the result of many hours of hard work by the dedicated literary critics and artists of B.H.S. In order to provide funds to publish this collection of works by the literary and artistic geniuses of the school, the staff sold delectable evidences of their culinary abilities to swarms of starving students. Throughout the year the staff of Mirage participated in, as Mathew Arnold said in 1864, "a disinterested endeavor to learn and propagate the best that is known and thought in the world".

Editors-in-Chief: Stephen Sackel and Christine Latsey.

REFLECTIONS

A new name plus a new design in honor of the new high school equals more work for the staff of Reflections. Future sports writers, artists, and professional photographers got plenty of experience while working on the yearbook. Sell more ecology pins; its for a good cause . . . the yearbook . . . How can there be more editors than there are staff . . . I think I lost the write-ups . . . Nobody told me that today was the deadline . . . Everyone has finally filled out a personal tab form—I hope! . . . Does it matter if the people in the club pictures are identified in the wrong order? The result of this year's hard work was well-worth the effort!

What is the bastion of free expression, communication, information, humor, insight, wit, social analysis, absurdity and profundity at B.H.S.? You're right, it's the Highpoint, the "highpoint of your day." This year the Highpoint editors and staff thoroughly permeated all facets of school and worldly life by their charismatic presentation of the news. With monumental ingenuity, intelligence, and precision our keen and penetrating newspaper has been on top of all the great moments at B.H.S. No ivy leaf has been left unturned in a noble attempt to enlighten the masses. After the interviews, reports, polls, pictures, editorials and layouts are completed, the staff diligently set forth to equit each student with his own copy of the Highpoint for under 26 cents. Then the cycle began again with the birth of a new Highpoint. All of the hard work was worth it, though, just for the smell of ink, the sense of involvement, and the excitement of missing a deadline. Extra! Extra!

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

Pres.: Judy Seneca; V. Pres.: Susan Rubin; Sec.: Gale Mosteller; Treas.: Marsha Cone; Adv.: Mrs. Simson.

Its membership filling room 240 and spilling out into the corridors, the Shakespeare Club spent its fall meetings discussing and making decisions about this year's production. The winter afternoons were a midsummer night's dream for the cast members who blocked, memorized lines, and rehearsed under the direction of Mrs. Simson and Marsha Cone. And in late March, in the auditorium of the new Belmont High School, the dream of a midsummer night was realized.

ENTERTAINMENT SOCIETY

The Entertainment Society, with as much success as last year (if not more), has presented both one act plays and vignettes from the theater of the absurd. The plays were produced and directed by the students, under the direction of Miss Currie. Although the main purpose of the Entertainment Society is made evident by its name, members are given experience in the many aspects of stage production, including make-up, costuming, set design, acting, lighting, and directing.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is best summarized by its name . . . it is the "key" club in Belmont High. The club's membership is male but every project undertaken involved the very pretty honorary female Key clubbers. The club left its mark on Belmont, and a beautiful mark it was, by painting (or redecorating) the Belmont Center pedestrian underpass in modern design. The club is also being dealt a major role in student organization at the new B.H.S. because of its highly responsible membership.

Adv.: Mr. Hayes.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club of Belmont High brings together a cross-section of all those students who represent our school in interscholastic varsity sports and athletics. With activities such as the selling of club T-shirts, raising money for a sports scholarship, and working with the Boosters Club, they have played an important part in the extracurricular life of Belmont High. And whatever their individual choice in the field of athletics may be, they all share the universal goals, high desires, and good conduct representative of all varsity sportsmen.

The 1970 football season began and ended with a bang. Belmont's Maroon Marauders set records for scoring in both the first and last games: 32-0 over Concord and 30-0 over Watertown. Belmont boasted the league's second best defense, posting shutouts in all four wins. The year's highlights would have to include: fourth play of the year against Concord, blocked punt and touchdown called back against Stoneham, excellent blocking by the referees, the three stooges, and, finally, REVENGE over Watertown.

Captain: Joe Tryon; Coach: Mr. Gilvey.

Under Coach Bob Gilvey, the Cross Country Team showed SPIRIT and a great desire to win. The squad won 3 and lost 6, finishing 5th in league competition. This season showed marked improvement over previous years. Walter Swanbon broke course records at Winchester and Belmont and placed first in eight of the nine meets. Captain Joe Tryon came through with some fine performances as did John Comeau, the only senior and newcomer to cross country. Contributing greatly to the team were Wally Littlewood who came close to the Belmont course record, Dave Greehan, who during the season developed into a very strong runner, and consistent runners John Herlihy and Greg Stanton. The team looks very promising next season. The J.V. squad finished with a 6 and 3 record which shows that it has talent, and next year's team looks promising, with the loss of only two seniors.

This year's Soccer Team was ably lead by Co-Captains John Feeley and Dave Malenka. This year's 5-8-3 record is not a clear indication of the 100% effort put forth by the entire team. The players displayed a fighting spirit throughout the season although they were out-manned in many of the games. The highpoint of the season was the 0-0 tie against powerful Lexington who was second only to Winchester in the Middlesex League. Fullback Dave Malenka was named to the All-League team because of his great playing all year. Also getting the deserved recognition was John Feeley, Paul Dolan, and Tony Basile. They received Honorable Mentions. Paul Dolan and Tony Basile, co-captains for next year's team, are looking forward to a more promising season.

The Basketball Team opened its season this year with a promising start, winning the first two games. Strong individual efforts were made by all team members, but unfortunately the final record was not as good as was hoped for. The Marauders were well-led by co-captains John Feeley and Steve Paratore, with Dick Kelley as high scorer. All but one of the members are seniors so that next year Ernie D'Agnelli, the only returning letterman, will be joined by this year's junior varsity team. With the efforts of these players, the Varsity Basketball Team looks forward to a more promising season and hopes to make good use of the facilities offered in the new Field House.

For most of the winter season this year, the Marauder Hockey Club was the team to beat in the Middlesex league. However, after jumping off to a 6-2-2 record under the excellent coaching direction of Mr. Arangio, they somehow lost their scoring punch and could only muster two wins in the last eight games. Even while dropping to their final record of 8-8-2, the Marauder's did a very respectable job in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year. With only four seniors leaving, brighter days lie ahead for Belmont High School hockey.

The sale of the infamous wooden track to Wakefield at the end of last year made it necessary for BHS track men to practice either on the streets or in the high school corridors. Despite this handicap and injuries that inactivated key team members for many weeks, the Indoor Track Team placed 7th in the Middlesex League. A disputed entry in the mile against Concord cost the team members a 6th place finish in the league standings. However, they came back strong to finish 5th in the states at the Boston Garden meet.

Cpts: Nancy Allen and Gale Mosteller; Coaches: Miss Cleary and Mrs. Whitney.

Sticks in hand and shin guards fastened, the girls' Field Hockey Team made its impressive debut in the newly formed Middlesex League chanting, "We want ice cream!" Although they did not finish on top, the team suffered only two losses and was hailed by Coach Cleary to hold the best Belmont record of the past 14 years. The season's most satisfying victory occurred against league-leading Winchester who, until this year, had remained 15 years unbeaten by the Belmont Eleven. Thanks to Coaches Cleary and Whitney for the ice cream.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Women's Liberation Movement even had an effect on girls' basketball. Ancient traditions such as rovers, pointed sneakers, and six players were cast aside to accommodate a revised rulebook: the boys' rulebook. Boasting a seven win-two loss season, the girls vouch that the transition to boys' basketball was exactly what they needed.

Coach Keaveney's enthusiasm and desire to win coupled with Mr. Wenner's expert advice inspired the team to its best season in 20 years.

A touch-and-go victory over Winchester and a high-scoring match against Melrose highlighted the season. Despite the change to boys' rules the girls did retain one basic philosophy of the past: "We (almost) always played like ladies!"

WHERE DO I GO?

Where Do I Go? Follow the river.
Where Do I Go? Follow the gulls.
Where is the something, where is the someone
That tells me why I live and die?

Where Do I Go? Follow the children.
Where Do I Go? Follow their smiles.
Is there an answer in their sweet faces
That tells me why I live and die?

Follow the wind song. Follow the thunder.
Follow the lightning in young lovers' eyes.
Down to the gutter, up to the glitter
Into the city where the truth lies.

Where Do I Go? Follow my heartbeat.
Where Do I Go? Follow my hand.
Where will they lead me and will I ever
Discover why I live and die?

Why do I live? Why do I die?
Tell me, where do I go?
Tell me, why do I die?

800 PLEASANT STREET
BELMONT, MASS.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. Your High School diploma is all the experience you need. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

Mr. Robert J. O'Donnell

On Monday, February 22, 1971, the long-anticipated move to the new high school was made. That same day, Robert J. O'Donnell submitted his resignation to the School Committee while accepting an offer at the King Phillip Regional High School. Because it was reported by the Boston newspapers that evening, students were not surprised when he, on Tuesday afternoon, officially announced his intentions to the student body.

Mr. O'Donnell came to Belmont in 1968. The three years in which he served as principal were, indeed, ones of growth and change. Many significant events took place under his administration, including the abolition of the dress code, periods of student activism, the moratorium, Earth Day, the transition to the new high school, and the formation of open campus. All of these changes, initiated, perhaps, by the spirit of the times, were helped, nevertheless, by a progressive administration which sought to discuss and compromise rather than dictate.

In addition to being "the man behind the desk", Mr. O'Donnell displayed a personal interest in youth. Many will remember his friendly rapport with students, his interests in extracurricular activities, and even his dexterity in riding a donkey.

We, the members of the Senior Class, especially recognize Mr. O'Donnell's years of valuable service. We can, perhaps more than any other class, because we came in with him to this school three years ago.

This supplement edition of the 1971 Yearbook "Reflections" is dedicated to Robert J. O'Donnell for his leadership, friendship, and service.

THE CLASS SONG

—sung to the tune of "Let of Livin'"

Twelve long years of schooling behind us,
All those tests and books are all through.
But we know way deep down inside us
There's still a lot of learning to do.

If close friends must leave one another
Setting out, beginning anew,
They will still remember each other,
They've got a lot of living to do.

We leave friends and memories behind us,
And we know that so much is through.
But there's no need for you to remind us
We've got a lot of living to do.

There's music to play, places to go
People to see, everything for you and me.

Oh, life's a ball if only you know it
And it's all just waitin' for you.
You're alive, so come on and show it
We've got a lot of livin'
Such a lot of livin'
What a lot of living to do!
